LACCD MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Los Angeles Community College District is to provide our students with an excellent education that prepares them to transfer to four-year institutions, successfully complete workforce development programs designed to meet local and statewide needs, and pursue opportunities for lifelong learning and civic engagement.

LOS ANGELES HARBOR COLLEGE MISSION STATEMENT

Los Angeles Harbor College serves our diverse community by providing access to associate and transfer degrees, certificates, economic and workforce development, and adult and noncredit instruction. We promote equity, diversity, and student success through academic programs and support services that ensure our students become productive members of a global society.

History of Los Angeles Harbor College

Los Angeles Harbor College is one of 115 public two-year community colleges in the California Community Colleges and one of nine colleges in the Los Angeles Community College District, the largest district in the state. The primary service area includes Harbor City, Harbor Gateway, San Pedro, Wilmington, Carson, Gardena, Lomita, Palos Verdes Estates, Rancho Palos Verdes, Rolling Hills Estates, Rolling Hills, and some parts of Torrance, Long Beach, and Redondo Beach.

Established in 1949, Los Angeles Harbor College was first called “Harbor Tech” and then “Harbor Junior College,” before adopting its present name in 1965. The initial enrollment of the College was 650 students, 80% male and 70% graduates of San Pedro High School.

By 1965, the College had grown to approximately 5,000 students with a balance of male and female students. Today, Los Angeles Harbor College enrolls approximately 10,000 students, 60% female and 40% male, at a single campus location.

The College’s 86-acre campus is located in the western portion of the Los Angeles suburb of Wilmington, California, a community long known for its petroleum refineries and proximity to the Port of Los Angeles.

Francisco C. Rodriguez, Ph.D.: Chancellor, Los Angeles Community College District

Francisco C. Rodriguez, Ph.D., is the Chancellor of the Los Angeles Community College District, the largest community college district in the nation with nine, fully accredited colleges, more than 250,000 students enrolled annually and an annual operating budget of $5.8 billion.

Dr. Rodriguez was appointed chancellor in 2014, and has worked to raise the District's profile and improve its reputation as the best urban community college district in the nation. A noted scholar and education activist, Chancellor Rodriguez has more than 30 years of experience as an educator, faculty member and administrator within California public higher education. He has dedicated his career to high quality public education and championing diversity, equity and inclusion, and outreach to underserved communities.

He is a fierce advocate for educational policies that expand access to higher education and financial aid, especially for undocumented students and U.S. veterans, and for the leadership development of young Latino and African American males. He frequently speaks on the topics of higher education, student access and success, governance and governing boards, workforce development, fundraising and philanthropy, and community.

In 2018, Chancellor Rodriguez received the Ohtli Award—or "Reconocimiento Ohtli"—from the Government of Mexico, one of the highest civilian honors it bestows, in recognition of his tireless advocacy of higher education to aid, empower or positively change the lives of tens of thousands of Mexican descendants or nationals in the United States.

From 2003-2014, Dr. Rodriguez served as President of Cosumnes River College in Sacramento, California, and Superintendent/President of MiraCosta Community College District. He served as chair of the National Science Foundation's Advisory Committee for the Directorate of Education and Human Resources; as a director of the Board of Higher Education and Workforce of the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering and Medicine; president of the California Association of Latino Community College Trustees and Administrators Association (CALCCTA); and was an appointee of California Governor Jerry Brown to the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE). He is a past president of the Cal Aggie Alumni Association (U.C. Davis) and director of the U.C. Davis Foundation Board.

Born and raised in San Francisco, Dr. Rodriguez attended the University of California, Davis, where he earned a bachelor's degree in Chicano studies and his master's degree in community development. He received his Ph.D. in education from Oregon State University, and has served as a lecturer in the doctoral education programs at Sacramento State University and at San Diego State University.

Dr. Rodriguez is a first-generation, English-language learner, and proud son of immigrant factory workers. He credits his parents for instilling a strong work ethic and a tuned moral compass.

Deena Ayesh: ASO President

Deena Ayesh is a Chemistry student, aiming to one day study medicine. Her dream is to become a Pediatric Intensivist for an international organization, such as the World Health Organization, or Doctors Without Borders. She is a student at heart, that spends much of her time learning new skills and abilities. Alongside her full-time courseload, she works as a Starbucks barista, and seeks as many opportunities for growth as possible, currently interning for a Climate Change advocacy organization. Prior to COVID-19, she volunteered as an Arabic instructor for children, and also held an internship position with AFT 1521.

Being part of LAHC for 3 years, she is so grateful to have been able to serve her campus and community. She began her journey in LAHC during Fall 2018, in which she joined the Associated Student Organization (ASO) and became a student senator. With time, she grew in this organization, serving as the Student Vice President during 2019-2020, and as the Student Body President for the current 2020-2021 school year. While in ASO, she has been able to bring about some change on campus, including the creation of 6 student-led advocacy committees, the establishment of a college application grant, and advocating on behalf of students in issues pertaining to coursework, student financial insecurity, and homelessness.

In such little time, she has accomplished so much, having been a Harbor Advantage Peer Mentor and Student Ambassador; a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma Club, Honors Transfer Club, and Pre-Med Society; Co-founder of the STEM Student Advocacy Committee and Co-founder of LAHC's Circle K Club; and leaving LAHC as a STEM STEP Mentor. Despite her departure, she will leave with LAHC always in her heart, as she proceeds to transfer to a university, and follow her academic goals.

Pria Maineri: Student Speaker

Born in Northridge, CA, Pria Maineri is a Small Business owner and STEM student. After beginning her journey at Harbor College as a high school junior, she will continue her education at The University of Toledo, studying Cosmetic Science and Formulation Design, the only program of its kind in the U.S. She is looking forward to studying and formulating a wide range of products. She is striving to become a Cosmetic Chemist, specializing in New Product Research and Development after graduation.

After discovering her love for the formulation of beauty and personal care products, she developed the product line for her business, 88kitty. The skills she has learned at Harbor College have only furthered her success in her studies and business. 88kitty was recently featured on Medium, Australia's Ticker News. <https://88kitty.myshopify.com/>

During her time at Harbor College, Pria was a member of EOPS, Umoja, and the Honors Transfer Program, where she gained valuable resources, experience, and insight to prepare her for the road ahead. She is forever grateful for the experience she gained at LAHC.

Go Seahawks!

Pria

Carole Stevenson, RN, MSN, FNP-BC

Nurse Carole, as she is known, has been a working nurse and family nurse practitioner for 52 years. As very young child, all she ever wanted to be was “a Nurse”. Her aunt, a nurse, supported this dream by recommending that Carole go to a University and study nursing. She believed that in the future, nurses would need to have a college degree.

After graduating from St. Louis University with a Bachelor's Degree in Nursing, she was assigned to the Pediatric ICU at the University of Kentucky. It was there where she witnessed children die from the lack of vaccines, horrific accidents, injuries and congenital anomalies.

Another dream of hers was to be a nurse on “Project Hope” the hospital ship that provided health care to the underserved around the world. The year she was eligible, the ship was sailing to Maceio, Brazil. As she explains, she applied and was told “no”. Never giving up, she called weekly to see if there was a spot for her and in early November, 3 months before departure, the good news came, and she was “on board” and on her way to Brazil.

Upon returning home, she contacted the University of Connecticut and asked to be admitted into their Master's Program. “Applying” in such an unconventional way was so shocking to the administration that they agreed. Two years later, Nurse Carole completed a Master's Degree in Nursing and accepted a teaching position at the University of Indiana School of Nursing in Indianapolis, Indiana.

This position was at the chagrin of her family as Indiana University was a top basketball rival of the University of Kentucky. At IU one of her daily habits was searching bulletin boards for opportunities in nursing, “Robert Wood Johnson Nursing Faculty Fellowship in Primary Care. Applications are due soon”, she read. How exciting and futuristic for Nursing! Primary care and the concept of the Nursing Practitioner was in its infancy. The idea had been conceived at the University of Colorado in Denver and this would be the University of study. She was awarded the Fellowship, the classes were in Denver, and her preceptorship was in Leadville, Colorado with a Family Physician. After finishing the program, she instructed nurses all over the state in the art of the physical exam. As a Board-Certified Family Nurse Practitioner, she started and managed the Student Health Center at Harbor College.

Travel was also a love of hers and she taught nursing in countries all over the world. As an educator and a published author, she was recruited to provide continuing education for American nurses on trips to counties such as China, Japan, Russia, and western Europe. She was also commissioned to instruct the Colorado Public Health Nursing Home Inspectors, and the United States Army nurses in Hawaii and Germany on the physical exam for adults and children.

Classified Honoree: Sylvia Files

Sylvia Files began her career at Harbor on April Fool's day 2017 in the President's Office. She is not new to the District as she started as a student worker at East LA College in the Athletic Department as Athletic Secretary. After graduating from East LA College with an AA Degree in Office Administration, she transferred to CSULA, earning a BS Degree in Business Education and Office Systems.

In 1991 she became a classified employee, serving in various roles at East. She made her way around the Administration Building, starting in Student Services, then moving on to Admissions, Academic Affairs and then back again to Student Services. The joke was that her last stop would be the President's Office. She left East in 1999 and moved to Dallas with her husband and one-year-old daughter. During her years away from the District, as many know, she cannot sit still. She ventured out and did childcare at home in Dallas, so her daughter had playmates. Once they moved back to California, she became an Event Planner and Professional Organizer. After serving in various positions/roles and raising her children, it was time to return to the District. Being in the college atmosphere is energizing for her. She wants to give back to the amazing community college system that gave her so many opportunities to grow. As a First Gen college student, the opportunities were endless but it was also unknown territory.

She loves the challenges of her job, partnering with everyone on campus, and serving the students. During the pandemic, she was able to complete a MA in Human Behavioral Psychology to open doors to new opportunities and to connect with students even more. It has been quite a year, but one of the most exciting events is to be able to graduate with her daughter this year. Her daughter is earning a bachelor's in child development, with the focus on Special Education. Her husband, daughter (23) and son (21) are active volunteers in the Cypress Champions League, a baseball league for special needs children and adults.

Her encouragement to the Class of 2021 is to pursue your dreams and lead with a Yes! You never know how that Yes will change your life and the trajectory of your journey. She is grateful for the opportunity God has given her to serve others and be a part of the Harbor Team. Being nominated as Employee of the Year is truly an honor. Congratulations Seahawks!
